Welcome to our second DIGIVID Mini-Bulletin

We would like to update you regularly regarding the DIGIVID progress with our DIGIVID Mini-Bulletin.

DIGIVID News

1st DIGIVID Workshop at EC-TEL

Our first DIGIVID Workshop took place on the 21st of September from 9:00 - 12:00. In this workshop we discussed the participants to actively share experiences, reflect on lessons learned to improve your future practices in online teaching and learning. This includes also the digital skills you need to acquire during the pandemic and that you might improve for the future.

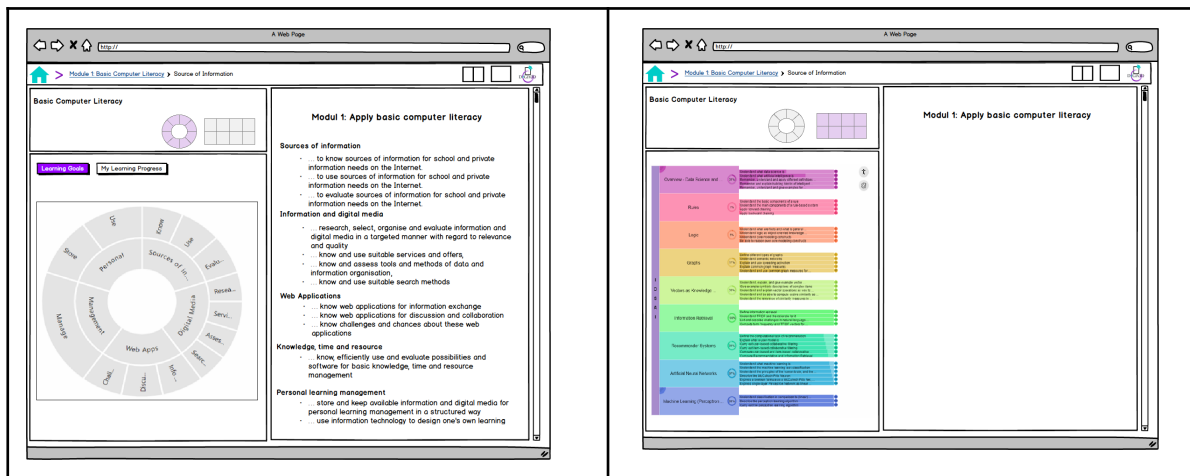

During this workshop, we had fruitful discussions with the participants and we plan to repeat this workshop.

DIGIVID Curriculum

We are happy to inform you that we have developed and selected a first version of the DIGIVID Curriculum. Our DIGIVID Curriculum consists of the following major topics: Basic computer literacy; Own digital lifeworlds, Design Digital Materials, Teaching and Learning with Digital Media, Teaching and Learning with Digital Media in the Subject.

DIGIVIDget

We have now implemented a second visualisation for the DIGIVIDget. Beside our nice sunburst visualisation, we have now also developed a sophisticated treemap.

DIGIVID Workshop Invitation

We would like to invite you as an associated partner to participate in our online DIGIVID Co-Design Workshop. In this workshop, we would like to discuss with you your experiences and practices in online teaching and learning, the content of the DIGIVID curriculum planned as well as co-design and discuss the DIGIVIDget.

The workshop will take place on one day for two to three hours. Please check which of the suggested times would fit for you.
